MONGRONO, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 16, 1892.

in this colony to which the late Chief status of the Society should be legally minimized by such work as the Pe Leung Kuh engages in, is beyond all question. The petition praying the Government to make a grant to enable the Society to meet its expenditure and to place the institution on a firm and lasting basis is therefore deserving of every consideration. The affairs of the Po Leung Kuk are managed by committee of Chinese gentlemen of well-known respectability. Its method of work is briefly stated in one of the series of rules sanctioned by the Government in 1882- The Society will endeavour by correspondence and inquiry to essist in the detection and of kidnapping and kindled offences. The Society will also endeavour by the establishment of a Home in Hongkong to provide temporary accommodation for destitute women and children who may be resoued from illegal custody. The Society will also endeavour to restore rescued women and children to their relatives, and in case of those who are friendless, to make such provision as may be proper for their welfare. That the Po Leung Kuh has rendered much practical assistance to the Government by its operations has already been! freely acknowledged, and the tequest made in the petition now before the Government is practically the result of the fact that this philanthropic work of rescue has increased so much that the Society is unable to overtake it Case, Per Bot, with the means at its disposal. The figures in the return of the cases dealt with during the past four-and-a-half years show conclusively that the Society is both energetic and successful in its work. During the period mentioned 2,412 males and females were restored to their relatives. 218 women were married and 46 children were adopted, the total number of persons dealt with being 2.851. One specially noteworthy fact which the figures show is that in consequence of the increased powers given to the Registrar General under the Women and Girls Protection Ordinance, which came into force last 1.00 year, there has been a great increase in the number of cases dealt with by the Society, the total from 12th July 1891 1.00 up to the end of that year, a period of less than six months, being 506. The committee, Mr Stewart Lockbart states. 'although business men whose time is much occupied by their own affeirs, have contrived to devote an amount of 1.25 time and energy to the work of the Per Case. Per Case. | Society which has increased its efficiency and has been of the greatest assistance to this (the Registrar Caneral's) Office.' On these facts a very good case 5 00 is undoubtedly made out for govern-7 50 ment assistance; and when the commit-12.00 tee merely asks for such aid as may onable the Society to have a suitable place for housing and maintaining those who are entrusted to its care, we can bardly conceive it possible that the Covernment will refuse the request. Up to the present time the only accommods. tion at the disposal of the Po Leung Kult for the purpose mentioned has been a mere loft at the Tung Wa Hospital, the use of which was granted by the management of that institution. We do not wender that

2.50 this has long been considered insufficient. Apart altogether from the question of space, this arrangement is obviously objectionable on other grounds. Various negotiations have taken place between the Government and the Society with regard to the acquisition of a mite for a Home, but they have, so far, resulted in nothing, owing to difficulties of one 0.75 kind or another. The proposal on this point which the Committee now aubmit to the Government, and which pertainly seems a very rea onable one, is that a portion of the lot given by the Government to the Tung Wa, which is 1.10 not used for hospital purposes, should be marked out for the site of the Fo Leung Kek. As regards the question of "ways and means, the Women and Girls Protection Ordinates empowers the Goverument to provide a mitable building or buildings for the purposes of temporarily housing and maintaining women and girls detained noder the provisions of the Ordinance. There ought therefore to be no difficulty on that score. Mr Stewart Lockbart points out that in Singapore and other places in the Straits Settlements, where Homea have been established under the Women and Girls Protection Ordinance, the cost of the buildings and upkeep are defrayed out of public moneys, no subscription like that raised emong the Chinese here being collected. The Chinese community of Hongkong, it must be said to their credit, have shown every willing ness to support the Po Leung Kuk as. far as it is in their power to do so. An anneal for aid made in the early part of last year met with what must be review of the commercial depression which prevailed, a snm smounting to $30,000 having been subscribed. The interest on this sum, however, Mr Stewart Lookhart points out, will not suffice for the annual expenses of the Society, which are estimated at from $5000 to $6000. The suggestion in the report as to how the institution THE report submitted to the Legislative limy be provided with a saitable flowe Council by the Registrar General on a and placed on a proper financial basis petition from the Po Leung Kuk, con- is one that does not involve any great tains a great deal of very interesting expenditure on the part of the Coverninformation and describes with great ment, and we should hardly think it clearness and exhaustiveness the actual likely that the outlay would be grudged, S p.m. - Meeting of Shareholders of The position and work of the Society. As considering the object for which it is Ohins & Manila Steamship Co., Ld., to the constitution of this Chinese orga- sought. We quite agree with the Renisation for the protection of women gistrar General that if the work which and children, and as to its modus ope- the Po Leung Kuk does granuitously randi, we believe the ideas of the great were left entirely to be done by majority of European residents in the the Government it would necessitate colony have hitherto been of a somewhat the placing on the annual estimates of Noon. Nevertheles the Pola large sum for the maintenance of Leung Kuk, as is shown by statistics | destitutes and others, and that in the quoted, has been for the last ten years | end the work would not be so effectively doing a good deal of meritorious work or so satisfactorily performed as at in restricting that treffic in human beings present. As to the remosal that the

Justice Sir John Smale called public recognised by a special ordinance, it is at ention in 1878; and which is still one to which we can ree no possible carried on to a lamentable extent. No objection. Mr Stewart Lockhart has measures that the Government could done a good service not only to the devise would be sufficient to stop the Lewng Kuk but to the Colony in placing. evil practice altog ther, but that its the case for the Society so clearly and most deplorable effects may be greatly fully before the Government.

THERE are, curiously, various opinions about opium-smoking. Porhaps this partly explained by a report of Mr E. H. He says : Opion smoking in India is not, as in 99 cases out of 100 in China, a harmices babit, eiger-amoking amongst Europeans. LIFE IN HONGKONG.

A writer in the Cornhill Magazine, giving his views on life in Hongkou. says !-· Hongkong society is nothing if not smart, and has a rather extra strong dush of that "high-life-below stairs" element which seems inseparable from the Crown colony In a society so constituted every.

Portuguese or Indians, and it is only in politions of some authority and fresponsibility that it is found necessary to employ. the European. What is meant by the high life-below stairs element ! is quite clear, but it really doesn't matter. Referring to the European ladies of Hongkong, our critic remarks severely that they 'adopt, exaggerate and caricature the ways and manners of the masters of Hongkong. They talk rather fast, laugh cather loud, and look about them a good deal. They are about one to twenty of the grosser eca, and, as a consequence, they are of considerable social consideration, and-every. one is a little remarkable for some thing-which is not humility. siderable social consideration is good. The writer moralises thus on the lot of the Chinese coolie :- Nothing can bring home more forcibly to the mind the nucqual distribution of the pains and pleasures of life than the spectacle of goolies struggling up the hill to the Peak at Hongkong with the materials which are to form the pleasant rosting places of their fellows. You may see a grown man carrying forty bricks, followed by a child toiling under four ; but upon the face of each is the area ble

Unlimited cult to realise the origin of the mystery of Chinese life and character, their callousness to suffering, their indifference to death, and their hostlity to everything but what has been ; for with them suffering in the normal sinte of existence, death is the only possible alleviation they can look forward to, whilst every change they have known hitherto has been to their disadvantage. To most people death is a thing inevitable perhaps, but to be avoided us long as possible, to be thought of with reverend fear, and to be spoken of with buted brouth. I is the symbol of purposes unascomplished, of hopes unfulfilled, of pleasures curtailed, of aspirations pusatisfied. But to a China. man of the class in question death is his one chance of escape from a condition of life which is almost intelerable—a life of other people's designs, no pleasures save the hare satisfaction of the appetites of hunger and desire, no hope save that of ceasing to be. Whatever their hardships. we may comfort ourselves at least that hore, under British rule, they are better off than they would be in their own country; and if you linger by them when the chewshow man comes round with the mid-day
